

WHILE - READING ACTIVITY

Gapped summary

The protagonist of this story _____ her first couch surfing experience in Italy, she says she was lucky because her host, Angelo, _____ her a one week stay in Northern Italy. He _____ very kind and picked her up at the station, then he _____ her on a sightseeing tour of the town.

He was busy during the day, but in the evenings they _____ out for a meal together and _____ some friends. Every day she _____ to visit a new destination _____ by train.

She _____ nervous about _____ with a stranger because a friend of hers had already had that experience and _____ it to her. Moreover, she _____ positive feedback on her host's profile.

She _____ that couch surfing is a good way to _____ to know a new culture. Angelo _____ now a good friend of hers.

KEY

The protagonist of this story had her first couch surfing experience in Italy, she says she was lucky because her host, Angelo, offered her a one week stay in Northern Italy. He was very kind and picked her up at the station, then he took her on a sightseeing tour of the town.

He was busy during the day, but in the evenings they went out for a meal together and saw some friends. Every day she managed to visit a new destination travelling by train.

She wasn't nervous about staying with a stranger because a friend of hers had already had that experience and recommended it to her. Moreover, she read positive feedback on her host's profile.

She thinks that couch surfing is a good way to get to know a new culture. Angelo is now a good friend of hers.